

Study Preparation Courses

Our study preparation courses are designed for students and prospective students of universities and higher education institutions in Germany. Together, we will build up academic German vocabulary and useful German for your student life in Germany.

We will also integrate your personal language wishes concerning your respective study program into your learning experience.

Level B2

- Compact language training with emphasis on study contents
- Preparation course for C1
- Official German language test and certification

Level C1

- Compact language training with emphasis on study contents
- Official German language test and certification

Click here to find a list of universities and higher education institutions in Saxony.